LONDON SUPPER
Thursday 4 November 2016 at 7.00 pm

A great opportunity for those in London & the South East to attend the annual informal get together.
We will be at our regular venue – one of the best for private dining in the UK - the long established and extremely popular Bleeding Heart Restaurant who offer superb French food in historical surroundings. The Restaurant takes its name from the yard where it is located which, according to the history books, was named after a 17th century beauty, Lady Elizabeth Hatton, who was found murdered there. Referenced by Dickens in Little Dorrit, amongst others, it is almost as historic an institution as CAOKS!
All alumni and guests welcome.
